

Community Friday Update

4-1-16

Welcome back from our Spring Break! I believe I saw snow, rain, and temperatures ranging from 35-70 degrees over the course of a few days...such is Ohio! With school back in session there has been no shortage of activities on the calendar...I hope you'll come check out a few!

Good luck and "break a leg" to the cast of "Stuck Pot" (HS Play) which will premier tonight at 7:30pm with an encore production tomorrow evening at the same time. Best wishes to our middle school solo and ensemble participants as they travel to the adjudicated event at Elida tomorrow afternoon!

Next week we'll see off the 8th graders as they depart on their Washington D.C. trip – best wishes for a safe trip! Good luck to all our sports as (weather permitting) baseball, softball, and track each have several contests over the week!

On Friday, thanks to SOS, we'll host the annual "Dads for Donuts" event. Later in the evening the FFA will host their annual banquet which is always a great time (and good food!).

Finally, a quick reminder for those with children who will be preschool or kindergarten aged next school year (2016-2017) – we have our KG screening on Monday. If you have not already contacted the school please make sure to do so as soon as possible. Current Kindergarten students (2015-2016) will not have school Monday due to this screening. For PKG screening information please contact the Hancock County Educational Service Center at 419-422-7525 x209.

Have a great weekend and Go Hornets!
